National Lutheran Schools Week January 22-28, 2023

DEAR FRIENDS IN CHRIST,

Every year, we look forward to National Lutheran Schools Week (NLSW) and the opportunity it brings to celebrate with over 1,850 schools nationwide. We give thanks for the gift of Lutheran schools to our students, families and the communities they serve. Churches and schools rejoice in partnership with a shared vision for proclaiming God's grace and mercy to equip the next generation of faithful Christian servants. We give thanks to God for the opportunity to touch the lives of thousands and thousands of children and their families who attend Lutheran schools.

"Making Disciples for Life" is the NLSW theme this year, inspired by Matthew 28:18–20: "All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you. And behold, I am with always, to the end of the age."

In our schools, we make ourselves known as followers of Jesus by following His example. It's the message that is taught and lived daily in Lutheran school classrooms across the nation and abroad. We share the Good News of Jesus so that all who believe in Him will have eternal life.

Lutheran schools make an eternal difference, emphasizing that every aspect of life focuses on learning and living as disciples of Jesus. In classrooms, chapel and the myriad of activities that students and their families experience, Lutheran school disciples follow Jesus. From school to home and in their communities, students are equipped to "make disciples of all nations."

Students look forward to NLSW every year. In the mix of open houses, spirit days, service-learning experiences, and the many creative ways schools celebrate this special week, we have joy in the promise of eternal life. Jesus' commission ends with His promise, "I am with you always, to the end of the age," (MATT. 28:20). We rejoice that through His Word, He continues to dwell in His disciples. As disciples, we live in His victory and share the Good News with one another and the world. May the work of our Lutheran school disciples be a blessing to all.

IN HIS SERVICE AND YOURS,

Dr. Rebecca Schmidt

Collect of the Day

L Let us pray: Almighty and everlasting God, mercifully look upon our infirmities and stretch forth the hand of Your majesty to heal and defend us; through Jesus Christ, Your Son, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever.

C Amen.

Isaiah 9:1–4

¹But there will be no gloom for her who was in anguish. In the former time he brought into contempt the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, but in the latter time he has made glorious the way of the sea, the land beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the nations.

²The people who walked in darkness
have seen a great light;
those who dwelt in a land of deep darkness,
on them has light shined.

³You have multiplied the nation;
you have increased its joy;
they rejoice before you
as with joy at the harvest,
as they are glad when they divide the spoil.

⁴For the yoke of his burden,
and the staff for his shoulder,
the rod of his oppressor,
you have broken as on the day of Midian.

L This is the Word of the Lord.
C Thanks be to God.

Gradual Psalm 117:1–2a; 96:8

L Praise the Lord, all nations!
C Extol him, all peoples!
L For great is his steadfast love toward us,
C and the faithfulness of the Lord endures forever.
L Ascribe to the Lord the glory due his name;
C bring an offering, and come into his courts!

Psalm 27:1–9

L ¹The LORD is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear?
The LORD is the stronghold of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?
C ²When evildoers assail me to eat up my flesh, my adversaries and foes,
it is they who stumble and fall.
L ³Though an army encamp against me, my heart shall not fear;
though war arise against me, yet I will be confident.

- C ⁴One thing have I asked of the LORD, that will I seek after:
that I may dwell in the house of the LORD all the days of my life,
to gaze upon the beauty of the LORD and to inquire in his temple.
- L ⁵For he will hide me in his shelter in the day of trouble;
he will conceal me under the cover of his tent; he will lift me high upon a rock.
- C ⁶And now my head shall be lifted up above my enemies all around me, and will offer in his tent sacrifices with shouts of joy; I will sing and make melody to the LORD.
- L ⁷Hear, O LORD, when I cry aloud; be gracious to me and answer me!
- C ⁸You have said, “Seek my face.”
My heart says to you, “Your face, LORD, do I seek.”
- L ⁹Hide not your face from me. Turn not your servant away in anger, O you who have been my help.
- C Cast me not off; forsake me not, O God of my salvation!

1 Corinthians 1:10–18

¹⁰I appeal to you, brothers, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that all of you agree and that there be no divisions among you, but that you be united in the same mind and the same judgment. ¹¹For it has been reported to me by Chloe’s people that there is quarreling among you, my brothers. ¹²What I mean is that each one of you says, “I follow Paul,” or “I follow Apollos,” or “I follow Cephas,” or “I follow Christ.” ¹³Is Christ divided? Was Paul crucified for you? Or were you baptized in the name of Paul? ¹⁴I thank God that I baptized none of you except Crispus and Gaius, ¹⁵so that no one may say that you were baptized in my name. ¹⁶(I did baptize also the household of Stephanas. Beyond that, I do not know whether I baptized anyone else.) ¹⁷For Christ did not send me to baptize but to preach the gospel, and not with words of eloquent wisdom, lest the cross of Christ be emptied of its power.

¹⁸For the word of the cross is folly to those who are perishing, but to us who are being saved it is the power of God.

- L This is the Word of the Lord.
- C Thanks be to God.

Verse of the Day: Matthew 4:17

- L Alleluia, Alleluia, From that time Jesus began to preach, saying, Alleluia.
- C Alleluia, Alleluia, “Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.” Alleluia.

Matthew 4:12–25

- L The Holy Gospel according to St. Matthew, the 4th chapter.
- C Glory to You, O Lord.

¹²Now when [Jesus] heard that John had been arrested, he withdrew into Galilee. ¹³And leaving Nazareth he went and lived in Capernaum by the sea, in the territory of Zebulun and Naphtali, ¹⁴so that what was spoken by the prophet Isaiah might be fulfilled:

- ¹⁵“The land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, the way of the sea, beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles—¹⁶the people dwelling in darkness
have seen a great light, and for those dwelling in the region and shadow of death, on them a light has dawned.”

¹⁷From that time Jesus began to preach, saying, “Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.”

²³And he went throughout all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues and proclaiming the gospel of the kingdom and healing every disease and every affliction among the people. ²⁴So his fame spread throughout all Syria, and they brought him all the sick, those afflicted with various diseases and pains, those oppressed by demons, epileptics, and paralytics, and he healed them. ²⁵And great crowds followed him from Galilee and the Decapolis, and from Jerusalem and Judea, and from beyond the Jordan.

C Praise to You, O Christ.

From thence He will come to judge the living and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Spirit,
the holy Christian Church,
the communion of saints,
the forgiveness of sins,
the resurrection of the body,
and the life everlasting. Amen.

Devotional thoughts:

Some people admire Ernest Hemingway or John Steinbeck. Others appreciate Maya Angelou or Emily Dickinson. Two men stand at the top of my list. I am in awe of Jerry Pournelle and Patrick McManus. These men have now passed away but I was privileged to meet them both. Jerry Pournelle was a brilliant thinker and writer. Patrick McManus was an author of humor of the highest order. I could spend the next hour or two talking about each of them.

Maybe you have met men and women of distinction and fame. What are the characteristics that make a person great? Let me describe someone who might make your list of the world's greatest people

This gentleman is both suave and debonair. He's elegant and charming. He is well-dressed, courteous, and refined.

He's a modern renaissance man who is self-reliant. He is an expert in firearms, martial arts, women, singing, wilderness survival, psychology, and American history! He's "a man of the world" yet practices rigorous morality.

Can you guess who he is? Here is a hint. Although he is extremely sophisticated, he lives in a small town in rural America. Maybe you have already guessed his identity but let me give you one more hint. He is in law enforcement.

You've guessed it. I'm talking about Bernard "Barney" Fife, deputy to Sheriff Andy Taylor of Mayberry, North Carolina.

Are you thinking, "How did you expect me to think of Barney? He's none of those things."

But you are wrong. He has every one of the characteristics that I have listed. He would have recognized himself in a minute.

Of course, those characteristics exist only in his mind. None of the rest of us would think of him that way. Most of the time, he is totally ignorant of his incompetence. This is why he continually displays his inept overconfidence! Psychologists have a name for it. It's called the Dunning-Kruger effect.

In 1999, David Dunning and Justin Kruger published a study titled, "Unskilled and Unaware of It: How Difficulties in Recognizing One's Own Incompetence Lead to Inflated Self-Assessments." I just call it "Living in Darkness."

You may have met spiritual "Barney Fife"s. Spiritual Barney Fifes are people who don't believe that they need God. They consider themselves to be highly moral and spiritually sophisticated people. It is dangerous to be a spiritual "Barney Fife." It is living in darkness and it leads to eternal separation from God.

Not long after Jesus began His ministry, John the Baptist was arrested and thrown into jail in Perea by Herod the Tetrarch. Matthew tells us that when this happened, Jesus went to live in Capernaum in the territory of Zebulun [Nazareth] and Naphtali [Capernaum]. This was a direct fulfillment of Isaiah's prophecy: "The people who walked in darkness have seen a great light" (Isaiah 9:2).

I wonder if the people of Capernaum thought that they were dwelling in darkness. Compared to Nazareth it was a very prosperous community. Nazareth had a population of only 200-500 at the time of Jesus. But Capernaum was several times larger with a population of about 1,500. It was on the northern shore of the Sea of Galilee with a thriving commercial fishing industry. Capernaum was on the main road to Damascus. It was the perfect place for the Romans to place a booth for collecting Taxes. Matthew was at the tax booth in Capernaum when Jesus called him.

No, people were prospering in Capernaum. Life was good. I doubt they thought that they were living in darkness. But the light was about to dawn on them.

Jesus came with this message, "Repent!" The first dawning of light into their lives was their need for repentance. This was the same message that John had preached. It is always the first message needed for those living in darkness. It is a call to recognize reality. Stop being a spiritual Barney Fife.

Why was Jesus so eagerly received by tax collectors and sinners? They were the first to acknowledge their need for repentance.

Following repentance, those dwelling in darkness are ready for the great light of the Gospel! Jesus' message was "Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand."

Talking about the kingdom of heaven may sound strange to our ears. But the people living in Capernaum knew what Jesus meant. When He said, "The kingdom of heaven is at hand," They understood that Jesus was announcing that the time of the Messiah had come.

What a great blessing it was for the people living in Capernaum to be among the first to welcome the Messiah! The coming of the kingdom of God meant wonderful blessings. Matthew tells us that Jesus "went throughout all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues and proclaiming the gospel of the kingdom and healing every disease and every affliction among the people" (Matthew 4:23).

We know that the greatest blessing Jesus brings to us is healing and forgiveness for our sins. Sin causes us to live in the shadow of death (Matthew 4:16). The great light of the Gospel is that Jesus came to forgive sinners!

One day while Jesus was at home in Capernaum preaching the word, there were so many people gathered around Him that there was no more room. Four men brought him a paralytic. They couldn't get to Jesus so they made an opening in the roof and lowered the man down on his bed. The first thing Jesus said to him was, "Son, your sins are forgiven" (Mark 2:1-12).

As humans, we like living in the darkness and ignoring our sins. We find false comfort in being spiritual Barney Fifes. But God sends the light of His word into our lives so that we will recognize our sin and come to Him in repentance.

Then we are ready for the great Light of the Gospel. Jesus came into the world to save sinners (1 Timothy 1:15). This is what it means that the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

There is no greater joy or gladness than knowing that God has welcomed us into His family through his Son Jesus. John tells us that "God so loved the world, that he gave his only Son, that whoever believes in him should not perish but have eternal life" (John 3:16).

When the Great Light of salvation dawns upon us through faith in Christ, we no longer live in the shadow of death! We are given life eternal.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if everyone lived in this light and life of Christ? Matthew records that Jesus enlisted four fishermen from Capernaum to help Him in this all-important task. He said, "Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men" (Matthew 4:19). And immediately they left the boat and their father and followed him (Matthew 4:22).

Many people in our country are happy with their prosperity. They are blissfully unaware of their failings and sin. They have fooled themselves into believing that they don't need God. They are spiritual Barney Fifes.

Jesus has ascended into heaven. We no longer are blessed with the presence of the Apostles. But people are still dwelling in darkness under the shadow of death. Who will bring light and life to them?

God has called each of us to this sacred task. He has commissioned us to make disciples of all nations by baptizing and teaching (Matthew 28:18-20).

Our first responsibility is to do this at home with our families. If God has blessed you with children, they must be baptized and taught the faith.

We do this by supporting pastors, teachers, and missionaries. We do this by supporting the work of Lutheran Schools.

Lutheran schools are one of the few places where the light of Christ shines into the darkness every day! Little lambs for whom the savior died are nurtured in the love and admonition of the Lord. Through the sharing of the Gospel, they are translated from the kingdom of darkness to the kingdom of Christ who is our light and our life.

You may be familiar with Jesus' Parable of the Lost Sheep. It's recorded in Matthew 18:10-14. Jesus says that when the shepherd finds the lost "he rejoices over it more than over the ninety-nine that never went astray." He goes on to say, "So it is not the will of my Father who is in heaven that one of these little ones should perish." This is how important Jesus views ministry to children.

May we ever be faithful in allowing the Gospel light of Christ to shine in the darkness. May we never hide it under a bushel!

"Rejoice in the Lord always; again I will say, rejoice. Let your reasonableness be known to everyone. The Lord is at hand; do not be anxious about anything, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known to God. And the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus" (Philippians 4:4-7).

God's richest blessings to you in Christ.

Prayers

L Lord of all nations, Your Son became flesh to enlighten a world darkened by sin with His grace. Visit us with His gifts of forgiveness and life, that our way may be glorious with His salvation.

C Amen.

L Heavenly Father, mercifully bless the Christian education of our children so that they may grow in faith to the praise of Your holy name. Bless Lutheran schools wherever they may be and all other places where our children are brought closer to You. Encourage our congregations to support those who teach and those who learn. Give joy to all teachers, and give them the privilege of seeing the fruits of their labors; through Jesus Christ, our Lord.

C Amen.

L Lord God, heavenly Father, Your Son gathered the little children to Himself that He might bless them. Strengthen parents so that they may faithfully bring up their children in the nurture and instruction of the Lord by a life of prayer and devotion to You and Your Word. Bless the work of Sunday School teachers and all who assist parents in teaching the faith to children, that all might be led into the Savior's loving arms and grow to lead godly lives to the praise and honor of Christ's holy name; through Jesus Christ, our Lord.

C Amen.

L Almighty Lord, Your Son's cross and crucifixion is folly to the world, but it is the source of repentance and forgiveness for all His elect. Preserve the preaching of the cross in our midst, that from this life-giving tree, we would continue to receive Your faith-preserving gifts.

C Amen.

L Almighty God, You have called us to be united in the same mind and judgment in the name of our Lord, Jesus Christ. Preserve us from divisions and quarreling wrought by false teaching and factions, and fix our eyes on the Word of the cross.

C Amen.

L Almighty God, give our leaders wisdom for the challenges ahead. Send Your holy angels to watch over all of our loved ones, especially those who live in distant places. Protect all who attend to our needs during this ongoing pandemic.

C Amen.

C I thank You, my heavenly Father, through Jesus Christ, Your dear Son, that You have kept me this night from all harm and danger; and I pray that You would keep me this day also from sin and every evil, that all my doings and life may please You. For into Your hands I commend myself, my body and soul, and all things. Let Your holy angel be with me, that the evil foe may have no power over me. Amen.

C Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name, Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven; give us this day our daily bread; and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us; and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For Thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever and ever. Amen.

L Let us bless the Lord.

C Thanks be to God.

L The Lord bless us, defend us from all evil, and bring us to everlasting life.

C Amen.

Meditating on God's Word and Works

I will meditate on your wondrous works. Psalm 119:27
My eyes are awake through the night watches,
That I may meditate on Your word. Psalm 119:148 NKJV

The Third Sunday after Epiphany

January 23 - 28, 2023

Introduction

Most modern forms of mediation turn a person inward. Biblical meditation turns a person outward toward what God has said and done especially what He has said and done through Jesus for our salvation.

Each Sunday has its own special theme directing us to meditate on God's word and actions. This theme is found in the Propers of the Day (the parts of the service that change week to week). From Advent through the Easter season these themes focus our attention on the life of Jesus from His birth to His death and resurrection. There is always much more in the propers than can be covered in any Sunday service. God willing, I will use the propers for Sunday to provide you with a devotion each day to help you meditate on what God has done for you.

Kyrie

L	O Lord,	C	Have Mercy on us.
L	O Christ,	C	Have Mercy on us.
L	O Lord,	C	Have Mercy on us.

Psalm 22 is often called the Good Friday Psalm. In anguish, Jesus cried out the first verse of this psalm from the cross, “My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?” It is frequently read in its entirety on Good Friday or Maundy Thursday during the Stripping of the Altar.

The first 21 verses are descriptive of Jesus’ crucifixion. It contains many prophecies that were fulfilled while Jesus was on the cross.

But at verse 22 (the antiphon for our introit), the psalm takes a distinctive turn. It changes from a portrait of pain and agony on the cross to a song of praise for the deliverance that God brings to all people.

We know that Jesus is the Savior of all mankind. He is the Lamb of God who takes away the sin of the world! As a result, our introit proclaims, “All the ends of the earth shall remember and turn to the Lord, and all the families of the nations shall worship before you” (Psalm 22:27).

L Let us pray. O Lord God, thank You for the salvation You have provided for all the nations of the earth through Jesus’ sacrifice on the cross. Grant us the faith and wisdom to join with all believers everywhere in praising Your holy Name. Move us to pass on the message of sin and grace to the next generation through the same Jesus Christ our Lord.

C Amen.

L Let us pray: Almighty and everlasting God, mercifully look upon our infirmities and stretch forth the hand of Your majesty to heal and defend us; through Jesus Christ, Your Son, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever.

C Amen.

I went down another rabbit hole today preparing this mediation. In this collect, we pray for God to “mercifully look upon our infirmities.” I began to wonder if infirmities might be one of those newly forbidden words. By this, I mean words that we have used for decades with no ill intent that have suddenly been deemed offensive. It seems that we are still permitted for the time being to use the word infirmity.

Christians have always been concerned about giving offense. I was warned against giving offense as a pastor. I learned from my mentors that I should carefully guard my words and actions lest I give offense. This was a generally understood standard of conduct for everyone, not just pastors.

Unfortunately, rude and offensive language has become the new norm. Celebrities and pop culture wannabes often pride themselves in making vulgar language a part of their everyday speech. Thinly veiled substitutes are now acceptable for television advertising. As a result, it has become almost impossible to avoid them in our day. It's not uncommon to hear Christian people use language that is painful to my ears.

On the other hand, I also learned from my mentors that there is a difference between giving offense and taking offense. We must always be careful to never give offense but we also must be careful not to take offense when no offense was intended.

Giving offense is evidence of our fallen nature. It is something that we must avoid. Likewise, taking offense is also proof of our sinful condition. We should never give or take offense!

Sin is our greatest infirmity. It tops all others. Giving and taking offense is just the tip of the iceberg. Our constant conflict with one another is caused by sin. Sin affects our closest relationships. It separates us from God and man.

God's merciful answer to the infirmity of our sin is His only-begotten Son. He took all of our offenses upon Himself as He went to the cross.

As we live under God's grace and mercy, we no longer want to give or take offense. We understand God's forgiveness when we offend Him. We are ready to forgive those who offend us. May he heal and defend us from all sinful offenses.

Prayer: Almighty and everlasting God, mercifully look upon our infirmities and stretch forth the hand of Your majesty to heal and defend us; through Jesus Christ, Your Son, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. Amen.

Wednesday

L In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit.

C Amen.

Verse of the Day: Matthew 4:17

L Alleluia, Alleluia, From that time Jesus began to preach, saying, Alleluia.

C Alleluia, Alleluia, "Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand." Alleluia.

Psalms 27:1-9

L ¹The LORD is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear?

The LORD is the stronghold of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?

C ²When evildoers assail me to eat up my flesh, my adversaries and foes,
it is they who stumble and fall.

L ³Though an army encamp against me, my heart shall not fear;
though war arise against me, yet I will be confident.

C ⁴One thing have I asked of the LORD, that will I seek after:
that I may dwell in the house of the LORD all the days of my life,
to gaze upon the beauty of the LORD and to inquire in his temple.

L ⁵For he will hide me in his shelter in the day of trouble;
he will conceal me under the cover of his tent; he will lift me high upon a rock.

C ⁶And now my head shall be lifted up above my enemies all around me, and will offer in his tent sacrifices with shouts of joy; I will sing and make melody to the LORD.

L ⁷Hear, O LORD, when I cry aloud; be gracious to me and answer me!

C ⁸You have said, "Seek my face."

My heart says to you, "Your face, LORD, do I seek."

L ⁹Hide not your face from me. Turn not your servant away in anger, O you who have been my help.

C Cast me not off; forsake me not, O God of my salvation!

I may have mentioned this before but Psalm 27 is one of my favorite psalms. I have read it many times at a bedside of people in the hospital.

It begins with these words, “The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The Lord is the stronghold of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?” Notice how David connects light and salvation. This gives us insight into what Isaiah meant when he prophesied, “The people who walked in darkness have seen a great light” (Isaiah 9:2). This prophecy was fulfilled when salvation came to Capernaum in the person of Jesus who is the savior.

Psalm 27:1 adds another dimension. David asks: Since the Lord is my light and my salvation, whom shall I fear? Then he asks: Since the Lord is the stronghold of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? Light and salvation drive away fear!

We live in a dangerous and scary world. Every trip to the hospital can cause anxiety. But David reminds us that while we may choose to be afraid, we really don’t have to be. Our ultimate salvation is already assured in our savior Jesus.

But we don’t have to wait for our ultimate victory in heaven. God protects us all along the way. In verse 2, David makes this stunning statement, “When evildoers assail me to eat up my flesh, my adversaries and foes, it is they who stumble and fall!”

The sheep of the Lord’s flock seem to be easy prey. But God has a surprise for the evildoers! They take aim at God’s people but by Divine providence and mercy, His people triumph while the evil and wicked fall!

God protects us every step of life’s journey until we are safely home in the mansions of heaven.

Prayer: Gracious Lord, thank You for being our Light and Salvation. Grant us freedom from anxiety and fear as we walk down life’s path through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

Isaiah 9:1–4

¹But there will be no gloom for her who was in anguish. In the former time he brought into contempt the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, but in the latter time he has made glorious the way of the sea, the land beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the nations.

²The people who walked in darkness
have seen a great light;
those who dwelt in a land of deep darkness,
on them has light shined.

³You have multiplied the nation;
you have increased its joy;
they rejoice before you
as with joy at the harvest,
as they are glad when they divide the spoil.

⁴For the yoke of his burden,
and the staff for his shoulder,
the rod of his oppressor,
you have broken as on the day of Midian.

The first thing that stands out to me in Isaiah's prophecy is the Great Light that shines in the deep darkness. But there is a second theme in these verses that deserves our attention.

Isaiah tells us that the coming of the Great Light brings joy and gladness. When the Messiah comes, there is no gloom.

No one can be happy all the time. It is unrealistic to think that Christians should always display joy and gladness. Some have the false notion that Christians should not cry at funerals forgetting that Jesus himself wept at Lazarus' grave.

On the other hand, there is no particular virtue in gloominess. There is time for somberness. Ash Wednesday, Lent, and Holy Week are times when solemn reflection on sin and repentance is the right thing to do. But the overarching mood of the Christian faith is joy.

The angel brought good news of great joy to the shepherds when Jesus was born. When the angel announced the coming birth of John the Baptist, he told Zechariah, "You will have joy and gladness, and many will rejoice at his birth." When baby John the Baptist in the womb heard the voice of Mary greeting Elizabeth, he leaped for joy. When the Wise Men saw the star come to rest over the place where the child was, they rejoiced exceedingly with great joy. When the women went to Jesus' tomb on Easter morning, the angel told them, "He is not here, for he has risen, as he said." Then they departed quickly from the tomb with fear and great joy, and ran to tell his disciples.

May Jesus' love and forgiveness bring us joy and gladness until we enter paradise where our joy will have no end.

Prayer: O Lord God, thank You for the gift of joy and gladness. Strengthen our faith, increase our love and hope that the gloominess of sin would be banished from our lives until we join the Church Triumphant through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

1 Corinthians 1:10–18

¹⁰I appeal to you, brothers, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that all of you agree and that there be no divisions among you, but that you be united in the same mind and the same judgment. ¹¹For it has been reported to me by Chloe's people that there is quarreling among you, my brothers. ¹²What I mean is that each one of you says, "I follow Paul," or "I follow Apollos," or "I follow Cephas," or "I follow Christ." ¹³Is Christ divided? Was Paul crucified for you? Or were you baptized in the name of Paul? ¹⁴I thank God that I baptized none of you except Crispus and Gaius, ¹⁵so that no one may say that you were baptized in my name. ¹⁶(I did baptize also the household of Stephanas. Beyond that, I do not know whether I baptized anyone else.) ¹⁷For Christ did not send me to baptize but to preach the gospel, and not with words of eloquent wisdom, lest the cross of Christ be emptied of its power.

What do we know of Chloe and her people? Unfortunately, this is the only place where she is mentioned in the Bible. Paul was in Ephesus when he heard from Chloe's people. It would be reasonable to assume that she had some commercial interests that required her to have "people" who traveled between Corinth and Ephesus.

She also loves her church. She has a concern about what is happening in her congregation. So she had her people contact Paul to apprise him of the situation.

Chloe rightly judged the seriousness of the divisions that were occurring in the church. Paul's first epistle to the Corinthians dealt with many problems from abuses surrounding the Lord's Supper (1 Corinthians 11) to some denying the resurrection of the dead (1 Corinthians 15) and everything in between. But divisions in the church are important enough for him to tackle that problem first.

We could learn a lesson from Chloe and Paul. Unity in the church is of prime importance. Divisions in the Church damage the proclamation of Christ crucified which is the power of God for salvation.

May we do everything in our power to heal any divisions that may have occurred in our congregations.

Prayer: Almighty God, thank You for the faith of Christians like Chloe and her people who love the Church. Move us to not only cling to the truth of Your word but also to learn that we are all one in Christ under His cross. Amen

¹⁷For Christ did not send me to baptize but to preach the gospel, and not with words of eloquent wisdom, lest the cross of Christ be emptied of its power.

“A long time ago in a galaxy far, far away....” Well, maybe not that long ago or far away, but it seems that way to me. I was beginning my studies to become a pastor. Four years of college and four years of seminary lay ahead of me. On one of my first visits home from college, my grandmother was at our house. I was excited to tell her that I was studying Greek. In her wisdom, she looked at me and asked, “Why are you studying Greek, the Bible has already been translated into English?”

I wasn’t prepared for that question. I don’t remember how I answered her. I’m not sure that I’m better able to answer that question today.

That happened in the fall of 1969. We had the King James Bible and the Revised Standard Version. What more did we need? At last count, I now have 62 English translations available to me!

Nevertheless, I made an interesting discovery about 1 Corinthians 1:17 that isn’t apparent in these English translations. Almost all the translations say something similar to the ESV, “Christ did not send me to baptize but to preach the gospel.” (I know. I read them.) But if you were reading these words in Greek, it might come out more like this, “Christ did not send me to baptize but to gospelize.” (“To preach the gospel” is only one word in Greek.)

I’m sure that this isn’t a big deal but to my ears, there is a subtle difference between “to preach the gospel” and “to gospelize.” In my mind, preaching is an activity that takes place at a certain time and place usually in a church service. While to gospelize implies that this is something that is happening all the time. Do with that what you will.

Sharing the Gospel is an important component of our Christian lives. It is not confined to the public preaching that happens on Sunday in a pulpit by pastors.

Whether you are young or old, telling the story of Christ crucified is the power of God that saves sinners. May we always be ready “to gospelize” when God presents us with people who need to hear about the love of God in Christ Jesus and the gift of eternal life.

Prayer: O God, thank You for the message of salvation through faith in Jesus. Grant us opportunities to tell others about the forgiveness of sins, life, and salvation won for us on the cross by our Savior, Jesus. Amen.
